ABOUT ME

Production Manager with 5+ years of progressive experience across live theatre, publishing, and cultural programming. Currently at one of Mumbai's oldest and most respected theatre institutions, where I have grown from a junior role to leading full-scale festival and production management. With a foundation built on a college-era theatre internship and a cross industry stint in publishing, I bring a rare mix of creative sensibility, operational rigour, and project management discipline. Now seeking to channel this diverse background into the OTT and digital content space.

EXPERIENCE

Asst. Production Manager (Freelancing)

Present

National Centre for the Performing Arts (NCPA) · Mumbai, Maharashtra

- Lead end-to-end production management for theatre festivals and full-scale productions, overseeing pre-production through on-ground execution
- Manage budgets of up to ₹50L per festival, including vendor procurement, contract negotiations, and financial reconciliation
- Coordinate multi-disciplinary crews of 10–30 across technical, creative, and support functions
- Serve as primary operational contact for 50+ visiting productions and companies performing at the venue
- Oversee scheduling, space allocation, and logistics for concurrent multi-stage programming
